05 Legacy and vision

Thirteen decades and counting

Legacy meets innovation

For over 130 years, Bosch has been inventing state-of-the-art appliances that make home life easier. Explore some highlights of our history – and look forward to an exciting future.

1886

How it all began

Robert Bosch always acted on the belief that honest workmanship is more important than temporary gain. His first workshop in Stuttgart, Germany, laid the foundation for highest quality and technical perfection. 1933

Pioneer in refrigeration

In 1933, the first Bosch refrigerator entered the market, followed in 1952 by our first kitchen machine. Storing food and preparing delicious meals now entailed much less effort.

1972

Non-stop convenience

The world's first combined washer-dryer was launched over four decades ago, bringing ease into the laundry room. Transferring heavy, wet laundry was a thing of the past.

2017

Our connected future

By 2020, all our appliances will be smart-home-ready – allowing you to check the contents of your fridge from the supermarket, or prepare your favourite coffee while you're in the elevator.
