Invented for life

Inspire your creativity in the kitchen.

Introducing the latest range of Kitchen Machines,
Food Processors and Hand Blenders from Bosch.

Invented for life. Technology to be enjoyed.

We have made significant contributions to progress in the modern home, improving people's quality of life step-by-step such as the first electric kitchen appliance in 1952, and many other ground breaking inventions since, including our new, energy-efficient home appliances.

Quality of life

Bosch products make daily life and work at home easier and more enjoyable. The focus is on developments that considerably contribute to easing the load and creating a little more quality of life every day.

Responsibility

Bosch acts on the basis of clear long-term principles, making it a reliable partner in times of rapid change. Bosch regards responsibility for the community, people and their environment as an important guiding maxim.

Quality

Bosch home appliances meet the most exacting performance requirements and offer optimal ease of use. The Bosch product philosophy is characterised by high perceived value and value retention. The premium quality is made tangible by high-quality materials, which is visible in the workmanship.

Technical competency

The experience and innovative spirit of the great inventors' brand Bosch guarantee superior technical achievements and the ability to combine new technologies with proven systems. That's how Bosch offers holistic, matured solutions that focus on the needs of people and generate more quality of life through maximum user benefit.
